Visit from Dean Bolton
  ○ Lucas: What is going on with hiring a new Dean?
    ▪ Dean Bolton: Looking to hire a more permanent Dean outside of those faculty members who become Deans before returning to their faculty department. Also looking to reduce the workload on each individual Dean. This new dean will also do a lot of work with the code of conduct. Want to review how we consider and approach the code of conduct.
  ○ Lucas: What does the Dean's office see as its role regarding what went on earlier in the fall (Taco Six)?
    ▪ Dean Bolton: First off, please always feel free to email me with your concerns. As terms of the process, that is one that, unless you raised the concern, is largely kept private. But we do try and consider all of the factors. And always if you have any questions please contact me.
  ○ Emily F: If you had a week to work on anything, what would it be?
    ▪ Dean Bolton: Safety – especially during Winter Study.
  ○ Matt: What is the Dean's office role in educating people re appropriate behaviors?
    ▪ Dean Bolton: Working on holding events every October (possibly with student support) to talk about why this is problematic. Also schools were the Dean's send out emails every year. Hoping to do a little better than that.
  ○ What is the Dean's office's response to International Club's call for Need Blind International Student Financial Aid?
    ▪ Dean Bolton: Not strictly something controlled by the Dean's office, but something that we are all working on in the future.

Budgets
  ○ Law Society: Removed airplanes funds because of the bylaws.
  ○ Cycling: Need training materials and tools.
  ○ Tamuka: A chemistry thesis research student going to a conference. Trying to supplement the grant money given by the professor. It is not a specific budget so it has been tabled. It also feels like something that should go to the Dean's office.

The Clark
  ○ Quinn: Working on increasing student engagement with the Clark. One thing we are thinking about is having a student gala. One thing we are working on is funding. Also trying to find out what students want at a gala like this?
    ▪ Ellen: Dress up.
  ○ Quinn: Also thinking about trying to incentivize students to attend the Clark by keeping track of how many come.
  ○ Lucas: What about displaying student art work in a section?

EDI
  ○ Sam: Difficulty determining if cultural immersion should qualify as EDI.
  ○ Erica: As CC we sit in between student life and college life and academic life so important that we talk about this.
  ○ Funmi: I think we should have two EDI classes required.
Ellen: I think there is a problem with the subjectivity of the EDI.
Sam: We have recommended that there is a committee not a single person in charge of CEP.
Lucas: EDI needs to address general issues. Can't keep up with every issues that comes up on campus.
Shelby: Also relates to if the teacher has tenure in the extent to which they are willing to engage with issues.
Matt: Maybe require the professor to spend at least a little time relating the issue to the students own community.
Emily F: Maybe have a requirement for EDI that forces the student to think beyond just listening to a lecture.
Matt: Think it could be simpler.
Lucas: What is going on with the Gaudino?
  ▪ Sam: I'd rather come for another meeting.
  ▪ Quinn: Don't want to discuss those changes before it goes in front of the faculty.

Great Ideas Updates
Video Games:
  ▪ Ellen: Have roadblock with the people working in Paresky.
Staff Appreciation Day:
  ▪ Zach: Just need to provide specifics but everything is going good.
SuperFan:
  ▪ Funmi: They are going to try and advertise more. They have been around the entries trying to recruit people to join the committee.
